

THE CZAR BURIED.

Last Ceremonies Attending the Funeral of Alexander III.

MANY DISTINGUISHED PEOPLE

And a vast concourse of Mourning Subjects—Thirteen Members of European Royal Families Present With Their Brilliantly Uniformed Suites—How the Services Were Conducted.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 19.—The entombment of the remains of the late czar Alexander III. took place to-day in the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul. The cathedral was packed with distinguished persons, including representatives of all the imperial and royal families of Europe. The funeral services were conducted by the Metropolitan, of St. Petersburg, and by the metropolitan, of Moscow. The former conducted the carina to her place near the coffin, which reposed in state in the center of the cathedral.

The czar and the grand duke and the members of the royal family present took up positions to the right of the coffin, and the many military officers in attendance were grouped behind the bier. On the left were the foreign ambassadors and ministers and their staffs, while grouped around in different parts of the cathedral were countless delegations from Russian cities and elsewhere, including the numerous delegations from France.

The funeral services began at 10 a. m. and lasted until about 4 o'clock. Over thirty members of the royal families of Europe, attended by glittering suites, were present.

After the long service the czarina, the czar and others present took a last farewell of the remains of Alexander III. The czar then laid the imperial mantle over the body and the coffin was carried by the czar and certain of the princes to its tomb.

Enormous crowds gathered on both sides of the Neva long before the ceremonies commenced. The opening ceremony was announced by three cannon shots from the fortress.

The czar, the imperial family and the royal mourners were received at the door of the cathedral by the metropolitan of St. Petersburg and by all the members of the holy synod bearing crosses and holy water. The imperial party formed in a solemn procession which marched up the aisle until the czar and the mourners reached their appointed places. The funeral service then commenced, and during its progress tapers were handed to all the mourners. Then the high priest, with a burning torch, lighted the czar's taper and afterward did the same with those held by the members of the imperial family, after which the priest lighted the tapers of all the other mourners in turn according to rank, until all were kneeling and holding flickering tapers in their right hands. Clouds of incense and the solemn chanting of the priests gave the most weird effect to the whole scene. At the conclusion of the funeral service the members of the imperial family paid their last respects to the dead czar, kissing the icon lying on his breast. The czar assisted the czarina, who was greatly affected.

Eight generals then removed the pall and carried the coffin to the altar, while eight other generals bore the pall behind the casket. The czar then placed his father's imperial mantle within the coffin, which was then finally closed and the procession to the tomb was formed. It was headed by the metropolitan of St. Petersburg and the clergy intoning a solemn chant. The clergy were followed by the coffin, which was borne by the czar, the grand dukes, foreign princes and the most distinguished generals.

The most impressive portion of the ceremony was at the lowering of the remains into the vault by high civil officers of the government. As the coffin disappeared from view the loud booming of cannon and the salvoes fired by platoons of infantry from the adjoining fortress reverberated through the church mingling with the words of the burial service, and the lowering of the mourning flag, and the hoisting of the ordinary imperial standard on the fortress tower proclaimed to the world outside that the last act in the mournful drama had been concluded. The czar bore the ordeal with fortitude, but many among the group of imperial and royal personages clustered around the open grave were visibly affected.

The czar remained in the church until the tomb was finally closed. After this last ceremony the imperial insignia were carried back, in state, in a number of carriages to the winter palace, and were there deposited in their accustomed place in St. George's Hall.

A WONDERFUL NUT.

Africans Use It as a Strengthening—Official Inquiries Made.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—The state department has been calling upon United States consuls in Africa for specific information respecting the marvelous kola nut, which by its peculiar action upon the muscular system enables the African negroes to make long journeys bearing enormous loads, under tropical suns and across difficult country without food. Cases authentically reported prove that an old negro may carry a 175 pound bag of coffee four leagues by chewing a single nut slowly. Robert P. Porley, United States consul at Sierra Leone, Africa, has sent in the first report on this subject, treating of the means of growing and preparing the nuts. He says that the natives eat the nuts in the early morning as a stay against the want of ordinary food while traveling, in the evening to induce sleep. Altogether they consider that a general benefit to the human system is derived from the consumption of the kola, say a single nut morning and evening.

The decrease in the tonnage of the company is entirely in the transportation of coal, coke, iron and lumber, to which also—emphasized by the long strikes—is due gross revenue.

Meeting of Stockholders—The Financial Statement.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of Baltimore & Ohio railroad company to-day the old board was re-elected. Mr. William T. Dixon, taking the place of Charles J. M. O'Connell, deceased. The net earnings and income for the year were $8,710,829.

After the payment of interest on bonded indebtedness, rentals, taxes, and other charges, and twelve months' dividends on the preferred stock and six months' dividend on the common stock, there remained $1,272,313.

Out of this other payment aggregating $760,346 were made. The decrease in the tonnage of the company is entirely in the transportation of coal, coke, iron and lumber, to which also—emphasized by the long strikes—is due gross revenue.

The gross earnings decreased $712,144; the expenses decreased $230,852; the net earnings decreased $230,852.

In view of the unusual depression in all classes of business, prevailing throughout the country during the entire fiscal year of 1894, the stockholders regarded the annual report as most gratifying.

Cataract Cannot be Cured

with local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Cataract is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Cataract Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Cataract Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonic known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing Cataract. Send for testimonials, free.

OUR MEDIATION

In the China-Japan Question—The Incident Closed for the Present—The President's Message May Deal With It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The China-Japan incident, so far as the United States offer of mediation is concerned, is considered closed for the present by those in a position to understand the situation. At the state department, and at the Chinese and Japanese legations there is only negative information to the effect that no positive answer to the American suggestion of mediation has been received, while it is believed to be literally true so far as Japan's answering by a positive acceptance or declination of the suggestion, yet those well informed on the subject say Japan has made her position clear to this government in such a way as to avoid the embarrassment of a positive declination and yet to show that an acceptance would have to be based on certain definite conditions. It is said that Japan could state this position with such expression of good will for the kindly motives of the United States and such hopes that the time might come in the future when the good offices of this country would be most acceptable, that it would leave no cause for friction, but would rather increase the good feeling between Japan and this country.

It is believed that the essential condition on which Japan would consent to any mediation is that China will raise the white flag of truce, the emblem recognized by a contestant wants to treat for terms of peace. China has not yet made any direct offer to Japan and the latter is not disposed to consider roundabout offers which overlook the recognized international emblem of the white flag. The reports that Japan would demand a surrender of the entire Chinese fleet and the cession of several Chinese ports pending the payment of indemnities is not credited here. It is pointed out that these reports come from "diplomatic sources at Shanghai," whereas the diplomats in China are at Peking or Tien Tsin. While such a surrender of fleet and ports might ultimately be demanded, it is pointed out that they would be contingencies to follow the first essential of China's raising the flag of truce.

The statement was made in congressional circles to-day that President Cleveland's coming message to Congress would throw light on the China-Japan question, and would forestall any resolutions of inquiry. As the secretary of state, unlike other cabinet officers, makes no annual report to Congress, the President's message ordinarily deals fully with foreign affairs in which this government has any part, and as the recent negotiations with China and Japan are the most important foreign question the department has handled in some time, it is concluded that Mr. Cleveland will make clear the position of this government. Up to the present time there is no official information on the subject, and the state department has not even stated officially that negotiations with China and Japan are in progress. The reading of the president's message is the first business of Congress, so that it would precede the contemplated introduction of resolutions of inquiry by Representative Bellamy Storer. It is the belief of those familiar with President Cleveland's position against foreign entanglements, that such reference as he may make to the subject will be on the grounds of humanity, urging that while this government need not reach abroad for conquest and acquisition, it can well adopt an enlightened policy which will aid in maintaining the peace and progress of the world.

A SENSATION EXPLODED.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Dr. D. M. Totman, who conducted the autopsy upon Con Riordan, the boxer, who died Saturday from the effects of a blow struck by Bob Fitzsimmons while the two were giving an exhibition of sparring, was indignant when shown the statement of Dr. Tanner, of Indianapolis, that Riordan probably died under the surgeon's knife. To the question: "Is there the least particle of doubt but that Riordan was dead when the post mortem examination was begun?" Dr. Totman said: "Not the least. Rigor mortis was well marked when the autopsy was begun."

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA, acting through the blood, reaches every part of the system, and in this way positively cures catarrh.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. CANNOT SUCCEED.

A Scheme of Free Silverites to Rule or Ruin the Republican Party.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., Nov. 19.—The Gary, S. D., correspondent of the Journal wires as follows: "It would scarcely be expected that information revealing a great national conspiracy to rule or ruin the Republican party should be found in this unimportant village. Nevertheless my information is so direct and the source so authentic that I have no doubt of the truth of what I have to tell. My informant is a gentleman of veracity who is acting as amanuensis to one of the leaders in the movement and I have long known him to be reliable. The story he tells is this:

"For several months an understanding has existed among the leading men of the silver states that an emphatic demand shall be made that the Republican platform of 1896 shall contain an unequivocal declaration in favor of unqualified free coinage of silver, and that in the event of failure of the Republicans to so declare a new party movement shall forthwith be sprung with a two-plank platform declaring simply for protection and free coinage."

The management of the movement is largely in the hands of Senators Jones, Stewart and Pettigrew, and they are looking to Senator Cameron as a presidential candidate in the event of the birth of the new party. The result of the recent election have given the leaders renewed confidence, as they now believe they will be able to absorb remnants of the Populists and secure through the protection plank the adhesion of the labor vote of the east. Thus they hope to centralize the entire free silver strength and much of the labor vote of the country. My informant is positive in the declaration that the Republican party will be forced to either adopt the silver plank or be destroyed, and this intention to rule or ruin is a fundamental tenet of the movement, and it is even said that Senator Cameron has already consented to head the revolt.

MORE EARTHQUAKES.

Further Reports From the Seismic Disturbances in Southern Italy.

ROME, Nov. 19.—Dispatches from the earthquake shaken provinces of Reggio di Calabria say that more slight shocks were felt in that district yesterday and last evening. Although no further damage was done, the inhabitants continue terror stricken, and numbers of people are fleeing from the towns into the country. Thirteen persons were killed and over fifty injured at the village of Seminara. This village is nearly destroyed.

All Palmi, where nearly all the houses were ruined, seven persons were killed and fifty injured. Numbers of houses at Malocchie and Terranova were damaged. Although nobody was killed or injured at these places, their populations are camping out on the fields.

The troops in the province of Reggio di Calabria are rendering all the assistance possible to the endangered inhabitants.

Two violent shocks of earthquakes were felt last evening at Milazzo, on the north coast of the Island of Sicily. The terrified inhabitants fled from the town and spent the night in the open air.

BREADED NATURAL GAS.

A Congregation Overcome—Several Critically Ill.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Nov. 19.—Six persons lie in a critical condition in the east end of this city from the effects of escaping natural gas at the Second Methodist Episcopal church. Many more were overcome, but are expected to recover. A new heater had been put in the church and a joint in the natural gas pipe under the floor had been left in a defective condition.

Those in the most serious condition are: Mrs. Marsh, an aged widow, will probably recover; Miss Kate Putnam, organist, not yet resuscitated; Mrs. Randall, not likely to recover; Miss May Randall, recovery doubtful; Rev. Josie Randall, recovery doubtful; Rev. R. F. Seers, recovery doubtful.

All of these fell unconscious before being able to escape from the edifice.
